FIRE INSURANCE CONVENTION.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—A convention of fire underwriters, representing companies in all parts of the union, with delegates from English and American companies, assembled at noon to-day at the rooms of the national board, Equitable building, Lowden Snowden, of Philadelphia, was called to the chair and briefly stated the objects of the convention, referring especially to the unfavorable legislation with which insurance interests have to contend. In addition to the companies represented, the secretary read a list of sixty others, unable to send delegates, but expressing sympathy with the objects of the convention. Committees on permanent organization and resolutions were appointed, after which Mr. Cunningham, of Glen's Falls, N. Y., delivered an address on "the value of policy laws." Mr. Head, of the Home Insurance Co., then spoke at length on the subject of "qualified policy laws." A committee of business was then appointed and the convention took a recess.

On reassembling Mr. Chard, of California, introduced a series of resolutions looking to the protection of insurance capital by co-operation among companies. Referred to the business committee.

Sam'l Blogden, of the North British American Co., offered a resolution that the convention pronounce itself decidedly against the system of insurance profits as a subversive and destructive to the interests of insurers and insured. Referred. Mr. Cowardin, of Richmond, Va., offered a resolution providing for a committee to report suitable by-laws for the national board of fire underwriters. Alfred G. Baker, president of the Franklin Fire Insurance company, of Philadelphia, moved that the matter be referred to the business committee. Mr. Hope, of the Continental, asked that no action be taken in the matter. There was a national board at present in existence, and they did not want two national boards. He suggested that this body be organized into a permanent one and that the committee on organization report suitable by-laws and constitution for its government tomorrow.

Mr. Cowardin accepted this amendment and it was adopted.

Addresses were made on incendiarism, prejudices of the judiciary, state deposits, etc.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—In the Episcopal convention to-day, the following committee was appointed to secure legislation regarding the Indians: Drs. Morgan and Dix, New York; Geo. M. Hills, New Jersey; J. Brewer, as missionary bishops of Arizona and New Mexico, of Montana, respectively, were made special order for this afternoon. The special order of the day was the report of the joint committee on the godly discipline of the laity. After considerable discussion of the first section of the committee's recommendation, which provides that members guilty of wickedness of life, shall not be permitted to partake of communion, the subject was laid on the table.

The house of deputies this afternoon unanimously confirmed the nomination of Rev. Geo. K. Dunlap as missionary bishop of Arizona and New Mexico, and of Rev. Leigh Richmond, of Watertown, N. Y., as missionary bishop of Montana.

THE ATLANTA FAIR.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 20.—The special attraction of the soldiers' reunion to-day was a sham battle which took place between the visiting and local military at Oglethorpe's park and was witnessed by 2,500 people. Two battalions took part in the battle, one representing British, Captain Burke, of the Gate City Guards, commanding, and the other Americans, commanded by Captain Duchesney, of the Sherman Cadets. The Atlanta Grays, Richmond Rifles, of Columbia, S. C., Rockford Rifles, of Illinois, and a battery of the Fifth United States artillery, made up the British army, while the American army was composed of the Gate City Guards, Sherman Cadets, Jonesville Guards and Mobile Rifles. The battle lasted about 20 minutes and both armies were well handled. Each man fired 20 rounds. The battle resulted in a victory for the Americans, who captured the British army. It was intensely exciting and was thoroughly enjoyed by the vast crowd. To-morrow an old fashioned Georgia barbecue will be given to the military at the encampment. The mystic ovals gave their annual parade to-night. The cars represented crusades and incidents connected therewith. The streets were thronged with citizens and visitors.

SOUTHERN METHODISM.

Proceedings of the Holston Conference, M. E. Church, South.

SECOND DAY.

MORRISTOWN, Oct. 21, 1880.

MR. EDITOR: Conference opened at 9 o'clock with religious exercises, conducted by Rev. S. R. Wheeler, Bishop McTear in the chair.

The attendance to-day was very large, perhaps the largest known in the history of the body.

Dr. J. B. McFerrin, of Nashville, was introduced and made some remarks relative to the publishing interests of the church. As the result of his indefatigable efforts, the Publishing house has been redeemed from a huge debt that threatened its existence.

All its affairs are now reported in a prosperous condition, with a most encouraging outlook.

A communication from Dr. F. Ziegler, editor of the Christian Advocate, was read and referred to the committee on books and periodicals.

In answer to the second disciplinary question: "Who remain on trial?" B. W. Fielder, J. L. Pryor, D. McCracken, C. M. Campbell, D. V. Rice, J. A. Cooke, W. J. Sage and W. H. Horton, having traveled one year and discharged the duties of their position satisfactorily, were continued on trial and advanced to the class of the second year.

The transfer of A. J. Brooks, a member of this class, to the western conference, was announced.

The question, "Who are admitted into full connection?" being called by W. M. Bellamy, Eugene Blake, Wm. M. Boring, Geo. W. Jackson, R. A. Kelly, J. L. Kennedy, J. W. Lloyd, J. Early Moore, E. B. Robertson, O. F. Sensaen, R. E. Waters, Wm. A. Thomas, J. H. Weaver, and John C. Boys, having passed a satisfactory examination as to character and proficiency in the prescribed course of study, became members of the conference.

J. J. Brooks failing in the particular of a year's trial, was not admitted. L. Richardson, absent and continued in the same relation. Those above mentioned as fulfilling the conditions required, were elected to deacons' orders.

The church was crowded during the session, and Bishop McTear, equal to any occasion so far as his high abilities were concerned, was master of the situation and dispatched business with characteristic suavity and inflexibility.

This writer, engaged until 2 o'clock last night in conducting an examination of a class in the studies required, was debared the privilege of hearing the conference sermon by Rev. James Atkins, jr., president of Asheville female college. His theme was the peculiar adaptation of the itinerant system to the requirements of the great commission, "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature." The discourse is said to have been a masterly presentation of the subject.

Those who know the speaker will not distrust the verdict. His scholarly attainments and ministerial fidelity were won for him a position not often attained so early in life and give promise of extensive and fruitful labors in the vineyard of the Master.

Rev. R. A. Hutsell is preaching at this hour.

Dr. Clark, of the South Georgia conference, delivered a lecture to-night on "Wesley and Methodism."

The many friends of Dr. W. G. E. Cunningham, editor of Sunday school periodicals, will be glad to learn that he is here among his brethren in the enjoyment of excellent health. "The life philosopher," in his very responsible position, has not lost his affection to the whole church and the Holston folks are ecclesiastically honored in him.

"Don't Know Half Their Value." "They cured me of Ague, Biliousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had a half bottle left which I used for my two little girls, who the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I would have lost both of them one night if I had not given them Hop Bitters. They did them so much good I continued their use until they were cured. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them high enough."—B. Rochester, N. Y. ## Sent Up for Perjury.

Dr. C. T. Loun, who made his advent in our city nearly a year ago and gained some considerable notoriety, both as agent for a patent "fluter and buffer," and in our justice and police courts, was again arrested yesterday on a state warrant sworn out by Mr. L. A. Sammons. The warrant charges Loun with perjury, charging that he swore to one thing a few days since in a trial before Justice Allison and yesterday swore directly the opposite before Justice G. W. Mabry.

Loun was arraigned before Justice King, bound over to court, and failing to give bond, was sent to jail. He will be remembered as having figured frequently in our courts in suits against W. F. Yardley, E. g., sometimes as defendant, at others as prosecutor.
